Plaintiff, Quanasia Jackson, residing in the State of New Jersey, by way of Complaint against the Defendants, says:

Preliminary Statement

This matter is opened to the Court under the New Jersey Law Against Discrimination ("LAD") alleging disability discrimination and/or discrimination based on perceived disability, failure to accommodate and retaliation.

Identification of Parties

1. Plaintiff Quanasia Jackson was, at all times relevant herein, a resident of the State of New Jersey and a former employee of Defendant.

2. Defendant Amazon.com Services, Inc., (herein after referred to as "Amazon") was, at all times relevant herein, a corporation registered and operating in the State of New Jersey with its service of process address at Princeton South Corporate Center, Suite 160, 100 Charles Ewing Boulevard, Ewing, New Jersey 08628.

3. Defendants John Does 1-5 and 6-10, currently unidentified, are individuals and/or entities who, on the basis of their direct acts or on the basis of respondeat superior, are answerable to the Plaintiff for the acts set forth herein.

General Allegations

4. Plaintiff initially began working for Defendant on or around June 19, 2017.

5. On or around December 17, 2017, Plaintiff injured her shoulder while performing her normal job duties.

6. Because the injury occurred at work, Defendant sent Plaintiff to see doctors that were affiliated with Defendant.

7. Said doctors cleared Plaintiff to continue working with her only restriction being that she was not to lift over twenty-five (25) pounds.

8. Plaintiff communicated her work restriction to Defendant, and requested that she be able to continue to work on accommodation.

9. Defendant told Plaintiff they could not accommodate her one restriction because the building was at "max capacity."

10. The site where Plaintiff worked employs approximately three thousand (3,000) individuals.

11. At no point did Defendant consider temporary job restructuring and/or job reassignment to accommodate Plaintiff despite her request.

12. Instead, Plaintiff was placed on an involuntary leave because of her condition.

13. Throughout her leave, Plaintiff regularly attempted to communicate with agents of Defendant, as well as her Claims Adjuster, Brittney Wade, and her Case Manager, Lisa.

14. Defendant scheduled Plaintiff for doctor's appointments, but never informed Plaintiff of the time or date of the appointments.

15. When Plaintiff attempted to reach out to her Case Manager, she would be ignored.

16. Despite this, Plaintiff underwent physical therapy and her condition gradually improved.

17. By May of 2018, Plaintiff was entirely capable of working, even without restrictions.

18. Plaintiff continued to try to attempt to contact Wade and her Case Manager to update her status but received no response.

19. Plaintiff also contacted ERC, a global Human Resources Department for Defendant on several occasions.

20. She finally was able to speak to someone there named John (last name unknown).

21. John was only able to tell Plaintiff that she was still listed as an active employee.

22. Defendant used an online portal to alert employees of their schedule.

23. Plaintiff regularly checked the online portal to see if she would be placed back on the schedule and receive hours to work.

24. From checking the schedule, Plaintiff was able to learn that she had been scheduled to work on November 11, 2018.

25. Plaintiff was not at any point contacted individually and alerted that she had been placed back on the schedule and she was only able to learn this by checking the online portal.

26. Plaintiff came into work on her scheduled day, November 11, 2018.

27. When Plaintiff arrived at the building, her badge did not work and she was unable to enter the building.

28. Plaintiff had to contact Security to get Michelle (last name unknown), and Kelly (last name unknown), to come out and speak with her.

29. Michelle and Kelly told Plaintiff that she would not be permitted to return to work until she was able to obtain a doctor's note medically clearing her.

30. The same day, Plaintiff made an appointment with a separate doctor.

31. Two (2) days later, Plaintiff brought in a doctor's note clearing her to return to work to Melissa (last name unknown), in Defendant's Human Resources Department.

32. Later that day, Plaintiff received an email from Emilia Paciotti terminating her employment.

33. As a result of that termination, Plaintiff filed a lawsuit against Defendant on or around September 4, 2019 alleging that Defendant discriminated against her because of her disability, retaliated against her for making an accommodation request, and failed to provide her with a reasonable accommodation all in violation of the LAD.

34. During that matter, Defendant made an offer of judgment which Plaintiff accepted on or around September 1, 2020.

35. At the time Plaintiff accepted that offer of judgment, Plaintiff was still an employee of Defendant, and out on a leave of absence.

36. On the day that Plaintiff accepted the offer of judgment, Plaintiff's counsel sent a correspondence to defense counsel stating "Just to follow up to this email, Ms. Jackson informed me she may be looking to return to Amazon in the future with certain accommodations. When that time comes, should I provide her communication to you, or have her communicate directly with Amazon?"

37. The following day, counsel for Amazon responded, by providing information for whom Plaintiff should contact should she be seeking to return to Amazon with certain accommodations.

38. After defense counsel sent that correspondence, Amazon did not send any further correspondence to Plaintiff until October 24, 2020.

39. On or around that date, Defendant sent a correspondence to Plaintiff stating that Plaintiff was terminated as of October 22, 2020.

40. At the time Defendant terminated Plaintiff, Plaintiff was capable of performing the essential functions of her job at Amazon with a reasonable accommodation.

41. Plaintiff was disabled within the meaning of the LAD.

42. In addition or in the alternative, Defendant perceived Plaintiff as being disabled.

43. Plaintiff requested a reasonable accommodation because of her disability, in particular, Plaintiff requested that she be permitted to return to work at Amazon with certain accommodations through her counsel.

44. After Plaintiff informed Defendant that she was seeking to return to work with Defendant with certain accommodations, Defendant terminated her employment.

45. A determinative or motivating factor in Defendant's decision to terminate Plaintiff's employment was the fact that Plaintiff was disabled.

46. In addition or in the alternative, a determinative or motivating factor in Defendant's decision to terminate Plaintiff was Defendant's perception that Plaintiff was disabled.

47. Plaintiff was a member of a protected class as an individual who advanced her rights under the LAD in first filing a lawsuit against Amazon for disability discrimination and failure to accommodate, and then making a request for a reasonable accommodation.

48. Subsequent to Plaintiff filing the lawsuit, and making the accommodation request, Plaintiff was subjected to adverse employment actions including, but not limited to, Defendant terminating her employment.

49. Defendant's conduct in failing to engage in the interactive process to determine whether or not they could provide the accommodations for Plaintiff, and instead terminating Plaintiff, and terminating Plaintiff in retaliation for Plaintiff first filing a lawsuit and then making the additional accommodation request, was undertaken by members of upper management and/or were willfully ignored by members of upper management, and was especially egregious, warranting the imposition of punitive damages.

50. Furthermore, Defendant Amazon has a policy and practice of discriminating against individuals because of their disabilities, failing to provide employees with accommodations, and retaliating against employees for requesting accommodations, which is demonstrated by the dozens of lawsuits filed against Amazon in the past six (6) years in the State of New Jersey alone, for violating New Jersey's anti-discrimination law.

51. As a result of the unlawful conduct outlined above, Plaintiff has been forced to suffer both economic and non-economic harm.

COUNT I

Discrimination Under the LAD

52. Plaintiff hereby repeats and re-alleges paragraphs 1 through 51, as though fully set forth herein.

53. The conduct set forth above constitutes discrimination based on disability and is the responsibility of Defendant in both compensatory and punitive damages.

Retaliation Under the LAD

56. Plaintiff hereby repeats and re-alleges paragraphs 1 through 55, as though fully set forth herein.

58. As a result of Plaintiff's protected activity, Plaintiff was subjected to adverse employment actions including, but not limited to, Defendant terminating her employment.

WHEREFORE, Plaintiff demands judgment against the Defendants jointly, severally and in the alternative, together with compensatory damages including emotional distress and personal hardship, punitive damages, interest, cost of suit, attorneys' fees, enhanced attorneys' fees, equitable back pay, equitable front pay, equitable reinstatement, equitable instatement or promotion, and any other relief the Court deems equitable and just.

COUNT IV

59. Plaintiff hereby repeats and re-alleges paragraphs 1 through 58, as though fully set forth herein.

60. Plaintiff made a request that she be permitted to return to work at Amazon with certain accommodations.

68. Plaintiff requests that the Court equitably order the Defendants to pay costs and attorneys' fees along with statutory and required enhancements to said attorneys' fees.

69. Plaintiff requests that the Court order the Defendants to alter their files so as to expunge any reference to which the Court finds violates the statutes implicated herein.
